for the Software Daten Service website

Copyright

The entire content of this website is protected by copyright and is for information purposes only. Visitors to this website may not, therefore, assert any claim or right based on the information on this website.

Data protection and copyright

General terms and conditions for accessing the website of Software Daten Service

This website (hereafter "website") is operated by Software Daten Service Gesellschaft m.b.H. (hereafter "SDS").

1. Intellectual property

All of the information on this website is the intellectual property of SDS and is protected by copyright. The information may neither be copied nor reproduced without the prior permission of SDS, unless for the express purpose of viewing the information online. Individual pages of the website may nevertheless be printed for personal use. The preceding provisions remain unaffected. From time to time and under certain circumstances, SDS will enable visitors to the website to download additional information such as brochures in pdf format or utilities. Downloads of this type are subject to SDS' terms and conditions of download.

2. Links to the website

Insofar as the SDS website contains any links or hyperlinks to other websites or web pages, SDS accepts no liability or responsibility for the content of such external websites, and SDS is not obliged to inspect the content of external websites. This refers to the currency, accuracy and integrity of the content of external websites, as well as the data protection provisions of the relevant provider. Any external link to the SDS website must always point to the SDS homepage (start page).

3. Accuracy of information

SDS will pay due attention to the accuracy and currency of the content of its website. SDS nevertheless reserves the right to change product specifications at any time without prior warning.

4. Waiver of liability

Unless otherwise specified by mandatory statutory regulation or other express agreement, SDS accepts no liability for any direct or indirect damages or other claims arising from the use of this website or any website to which it is linked.

5. Data protection

SDS respects the privacy of all visitors to its website and strictly observes the data protection laws of those countries in which the company conducts business. Paragraph 5 outlines the company's policy with regard to the collection, use and storage of personal data.

Personal Data

In order for any request for information submitted via this website to be processed, SDS is obliged to collect personal data protected by data protection laws.

SDS will make every effort to observe all valid statutory provisions. SDS has taken every necessary step to ensure that the company fulfils all obligations of the data protection laws applicable in those countries where SDS conducts business and of the EU Data Protection Directive. Your subsequent authorisation permits SDS to collect and process your data.

This website is accessible to selected employees of SDS who, based on relevant professional information needs, have been assigned appropriate access rights. Your data will be used to personalise the content or services offered to you, thus allowing your requirements to be met, as well as for market research purposes and for tracking sales and marketing data. This personalised approach to providing targeted information based on personal data provided by you may be taken by SDS.

SDS will not pass on your data to third parties without your express permission. Should you not wish your personal data to be stored in the SDS database, please send an e-mail to the following address: info@sds.at, otherwise, by visiting this website, you agree to the storage of your personal data in the SDS database.

Impersonal, unidentifiable and automatically collected information

In some cases SDS may collect information about you which is of a general nature and which does not allow you to be identified. Examples of this type of information are the type of web browser you are using, your computer operating system and the domain name of the website containing the link to the SDS website or advertisement.

Contact

If you have already submitted personal data via this website and would like this data to be removed from all SDS records and databases, please send an e-mail to the following address: info@sds.at

SDS will then make every effort to ensure that this information is deleted from existing files and that you receive confirmation once your personal data has been deleted.

6. SDS' terms and conditions of download

SDS hereby grants you a non-exclusive personal license to use the material you wish to download (hereafter "material"). This license is at all times subject to the following terms and conditions: the material remains the intellectual property of SDS and is protected by copyright. You are prohibited from issuing, distributing, transferring, selling or in any way exploiting sub-licenses for the material or for the rights granted under this agreement. Despite the continual update of the content of this website, SDS is unable to accept any liability for or to guarantee the currency, accuracy or integrity of the information available on the website. In this respect our waiver of liability also applies pursuant to paragraph 4 above.

7. Jurisdiction

Austrian law exclusively applies to the use of the SDS website to the exclusion of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG). The place of jurisdiction for all disputes arising from the use of this website is, insofar as the customer has commercial status, Vienna, 20th district/Austria.
